National Sponsors of the 2008 U.S. Army Soldier Show

For the eighth consecutive year, the Army National Guard is the primary sponsor and partner of the U.S. Army Soldier Show. Freedom Team Salute is a first-time partner and AT&T returns as a corporate sponsor for the fifth straight year. Their generous sponsorship support helps to offset production costs of the Soldier Show's seven-month worldwide tour. Every year the Army Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation Command offers customized sponsorship packages for select Army Entertainment programs. A dedicated account manager is assigned to each program to ensure the partnerships are mutually beneficial for both the Army and its corporate sponsors.

The Army National Guard is the lead sponsor and partner of the 2008 U.S. Army Soldier Show. This is the eighth consecutive year that the Army National Guard has sponsored this high-profile MWR program. By partnering with the Soldier Show, the Army National Guard hopes to increase awareness of opportunities available in the Guard. The Army National Guard is represented by 356,212 Soldiers in more than 3,000 communities nationwide, to include U.S. territories.

The Army National Guard is a reserve component of the U.S. Army and vital to the Global War on Terrorism. To find out more on the Army National Guard visit

The Department of the Army's Freedom Team Salute is a sponsor and partner of the 2008 U.S. Army Soldier Show. This is the first year that Freedom Team Salute is sponsoring this high-profile MWR program. Freedom Team Salute gives Active Duty, U.S. Army Reserve and Army National Guard Soldiers an opportunity to recognize parents, spouses and employers for the support and strength they provide and Army veterans for their service and sacrifice while they serve to protect our freedom and the American way of life. By partnering with the Soldier Show, Freedom Team Salute hopes to raise awareness of this great opportunity for Soldiers.

AT&T is the corporate sponsor of the U.S. Army Soldier Show for the fifth consecutive year.

"AT&T is very proud to support Army Entertainment for the 13th consecutive year and excited to be sponsoring the Army Soldier Show for the fifth time," said Lisa Fosmire, assistant vice president of AT&T's military markets division. "We appreciate the opportunity to be involved with this program, as well as the many others we support for our nation's men and women in uniform and their families."
